Bill
Dear Mr. Casey:

I enclose a "Work in Progress" report by [redacted] [redacted] of The Georgetown University Center for Strategic and International Studies that I believe you will find an important contribution to the poorly understood field of bacteriological warfare. We are soliciting comments from a very select audience before deciding on a further dissemination strategy -- such as refining it for journal publication or expanding its geopolitical context for stand-alone publication as a monograph. I would much appreciate your comments and views on this increasingly critical element of our national security environment.

Sincerely,
